The table below provides guidance on the use of certification/registration marks for indicating when a product has been made under a certified/registered quality management system.

| | | On Product *1 | On larger boxes etc. used for transportation of products *2 | In pamphlets etc. for advertisement |
|-----------------|---------------------|---------------|---|-------------------------------------|
| Use of Marks *3 | Without a statement | Not allowed | Not allowed | Allowed *5 |
| | With a statement *4 | Not allowed | Not allowed | Allowed *5 |

- 1*. This could be a tangible product itself or product in an individual package, container etc. In the case of testing/analyzing activities, it could be a test/analysis report.
- 2*. This could be over-packaging made of cardboard etc. that can be reasonably considered as not reaching end users.
- 3*. This applies to marks that have a specific form including some basic description of its applicability. A statement in words alone does not constitute a mark in this sense. Any such wording should be true and not mislead.
- 4*. This could be a clear statement that "(The product) was manufactured in a plant whose quality management system is certified/registered as being in conformity with ISO 9001".
- 5*. When using symbols or logos, adequate attention should be paid comply with latest version of SAC 02 Rules for Use of SAC Accreditation Marks and Mutual Recognition Arrangement (MRA) Marks / SAC-CT01, SAC-CT 01A (as Criteria might not be dated current/latest versions are applicable)
9. The organizations that are doing calibration, other testing, laboratories testing, training, etc., shall not use the Accreditation Marks on any of the reports or findings as these reports and findings are the products of their activities. So, the organizations providing any type of services shall not use any mark on any end product or reports or analysis of any kind on their final paper document, which may lead to confusion that the activity is certified.
